Garfield School District Comprehensive Code of Conduct/Behavior Policy

The Garfield School District recognizes the need for a comprehensive and consistent behavior policy from the elementary level through high school. District expectations for the Behavior Policy are to foster a positive culture, develop the right relationships and teach our students to be successful. The Code of Conduct/Behavior Policy is consistent throughout all the schools in the district following the same basic procedures with appropriate scaffolding for the age group involved. It is important to remember that the origin of the word “Discipline” has nothing to do with punishment. Its origin comes from a Latin root meaning to teach or to learn. This Code of Conduct/Behavior Policy is built around three fundamental concepts of modifying negative behaviors: Creating Trust, Appropriate Intervention and Behavior Modification through guided self-reflection.

The district-wide program is based on the Garfield High School Behavior Program called Student Youth Development (SYD). This program was developed as an alternative to traditional in-school suspension and has demonstrated a high level of success in reducing the total number of In-School Suspensions (ISS) as well as Out of School Suspensions (OSS). The SYD program focuses on the concept the something has happened to cause trouble and to move forward, the root cause of the difficult behavior must be identified; we must understand and address the student’s unmet needs and answering the question why the behavior occurred. Behavior directly correlates with academic achievement and by improving a student’s attitude we can improve their academic performance.

The program grew and expanded its primary purpose into directed interventions designed around behavior modification through guided self-reflection. The Program utilizes the following concepts:

Dignity: All people have an inherent worth. Not only must we remember the worth of our students as people, but we must also instill in students an appreciation of their own worth and the worth of everyone they interact with daily including their teachers, their peers, and their families.

Equity: All people have a right to being treated in a manner that meets their individual needs. The only way to truly meet them is to gain an understanding of their past to positively affect their futures.

Empathy: All people travel a unique and very personal path through the world. In order to understand the motivations and actions of any individual we must take the time to appreciate their life’s journey without judgment or comparison to our own. It is only after understanding where a student has been, can we ever hope to help them move forward.

Respect: To create a positive mediation, experience we must create a climate of trust with our students.

Relationships: Mutual respect allows students to find their own voice in order to effectively communicate their individual concerns and needs.

Responsibility: Students need to become aware there are consequences for all actions. Negative behavior results in negative consequences.

This program has subsequently been adapted for use throughout the whole District through the creation and adoption of the following Garfield School District Code of Conduct.

Code of Conduct

Research has demonstrated negative behaviors often manifest themselves when alternative choices are not part of the student’s established patterns of conduct. Every student’s behavior is a form of communication with the educational environment. Prior to entering school, children can only model the behavior they have witnessed in their lives up to that point. This behavior may or may not be demonstrated by parents or guardians in the home. It is possible this observed behavior can be demonstrated by other siblings, observed through media sources or even of students in their classroom.

Children innately trust that this observed behavior is what is socially acceptable, since it is what they are observing in the social context of their young lives. When this observed behavior becomes the norm, students subsequently react to all situations and use it as a basis for their moral decisions. In most cases the imitated behavior is socially acceptable; however, in instances when it is not acceptable, the behavior needs to be addressed by the school district. The district's approach is not limited by punitive punishment, but through specific interventions designed to uncover the cause of the negative behavior and offer alternative behaviors students can implement. Many times, the negative behavior is not the result of malicious intent, but rather the student's lack of alternative behavior choices. Through intervention and guided self-reflection, the district can provide students on all levels with alternate behaviors to implement when their own life experiences have not provided them with appropriate responses. Once students see these alternatives provide them with positive responses to various situations the student will develop trust in the district's staff to assist them in all aspects of their lives, educational and social-emotional. An educational environment is built in which students understand what they did was undesirable, and they can help build their own consequences. The District's Behavior Policy is a process utilizing various code of conducts built around the same fundamental principles explained through grade appropriate language that is designed for students to improve their behavior rather than a system designed to punish them for their mistakes.

Through implementing the Code of Conduct/Behavior Policy program at lower educational levels the district can effectively modify negative behaviors earlier and subsequently see an overall decrease in disciplinary referrals across all age groups. It is essential the district enforces a consistent discipline program across elementary schools and in middle school in order to implement a program that relies less on punitive punishments and instead offers alternatives to negative behaviors.

The district's mindset is a proactive model built around fostering positive behaviors. We do not need to accept disrespect and negative behavior. We need to combat them in a different way. The first step in creating this change is to create a district-wide universal Code of Conduct scaffolded for our elementary students, our middle school students, our high school students, our community stakeholders, our parents and our guardians. The district must place the appropriate Codes of Conduct for behavior in highly conspicuous places so they can be referred to briefly. It is essential that the expectations we have for our students are readily visible so all students, parents and guardians can see them everywhere.

Through the creation of highly visible district-wide Codes of Conduct we can create a consistent policy across all our elementary schools all the way through middle school and high school. The Code of Conduct is built around the following five principles:

Responsibility

Honesty

Tolerance

Courtesy

Respect

Enforcement of the Code of Conduct

Elementary Level: Reflection on Expectation Process (REP)

When students do not meet the expectations of the code of conduct the teacher, the school and the district have created for them there needs to be a follow up process to assess why the student made the choice not to meet the outlined expectations. The Garfield School District can proceed with a similar process designed around the existing philosophy of the High School behavior policy. For the elementary level the “Reflection on Expectations Process” or REP procedure should be implemented. This process will identify how the student did not meet the District- Wide Code of Conduct and then require them to reflect on they made a choice that placed them in outside the expected behavior. The REP program would follow the following process; once students are identified a REP Referral Form will be filled out by the staff member who witnessed the incident. This REP Referral form is attached to this report as Attachment A. The form will be then forwarded to the building Principal for their review. Depending on the severity of the infraction the building Principal will then either interview the student themselves or recommend them to REP Coordinator. The building Principal may decide to have the student follow the REP protocol while under their supervision or take the action they feel is appropriate in accordance with the severity of the situation.

The REP Process falls within the RtI Process as an appropriate intervention system to address the Social Emotional Learning (SEL) needs of students at risk for behavioral infractions that could their growth, both emotionally and academically. Through the implementation of this process members of the educational community can build relationships with students in order to discover what factors may be influencing them to behave inappropriately in the school setting.

The REP procedure for students identified by the building principal can be initially scheduled to take place during the school day at times that would not interfere with the student’s instructional time. RtI period, Lunch period and recess would be ideal. At that time the students would be sent to a quiet room and interviewed by the REP Coordinator using the REP Interview Form that is attached to this document and identified as Attachment B.

The reasoning behind using an interview of the student rather than having them write their responses is to save time during the process and also to capture their responses within in an electronic data bank. Following the interview the REP Coordinator will discuss with the student the importance of meeting the school’s expectations and methods these students can use in the future if the same or similar situation presents itself.

Once the REP Interview is completed students will be asked to reflect on the incident and offer ways, they will address these issues in the future. The students will complete the REP Self-Reflection attachment C. In the event the student does not have time to complete the REP Self-Reflection Form they will be required to attend the next scheduled REP session to complete their self-reflection. The REP Self-Reflection Form is attached to this document as.

A copy of the completed REP Self-Reflection will be attached to a copy of the REP Referral Form and both will be sent home to the parents for their review and signature indicating they have read both forms. In some instances, the building Principal may decide to meet with the parents to discuss the content of both forms to further involve the parents in the concept of Expectations for Success.

The Student Youth Development Program (SYD) is a program developed around a simple premise; it is more important to understand what has triggered the student's behavior than creating a punitive system of punishment built around the concept "If you do the crime, you must pay the time." This is not to say there is not an appropriate disciplinary response to each infraction. A list of infractions and subsequent consequences is attached to this document as Attachment D. When students misbehave there has to be some type of consequence, however by understanding what factors the root cause of a student's negative behavior maybe we are highly successful at preventing a repetition of the same behavior in the future. Not only is there a decrease in repeat offenders since the initial behavior has been effectively addressed, but it also prevents in most cases, an escalation to a more serious infraction.

The SYD process consists of the following steps:

1. When an infraction occurs, the student is sent to the Vice Principal or their designee. Depending on the level of the infraction sometimes students are removed from the class immediately and other times the teacher may just write the incident and report it the Vice Principal, or their designee, later. These students will be seen by the Vice Principal when time permits but within 48 hours of the reported offense. Incidents where students are removed from the room at the time of the infraction are then escorted by school personal, sometimes but not always security officers, to SYD room for a "Cool Down Interview." The purpose of this interview is to get the student's version of the events that lead to the disciplinary incident. During this interview they are allowed to recount the events in whatever language they deem appropriate except for threatening harm against themselves or others. The interview is designed to uncover any possible underlying issues. Since we already know what the student has done is it more important to determine why they acted in the manner that got them into trouble. Once the students can determine why they behaved in the manner they did it is important for them to realize they created this situation through the choices they made and reflect on how they can avoid these poor choices in the future. Depending on the level of the incident involved students are either kept for the rest of the block or sometimes for the rest of the day when the administration feels it necessary to limit the student's exposure to the school community. All relevant schoolwork is collected from the student's teachers and given to them to complete while they are in the SYD room. Depending on the level of the infraction this is sometimes the only intervention deemed necessary.
2. In the event the Administration feels further intervention is necessary students can be assigned to the SYD room for another full block, a whole day or multiple days when appropriate. When students are assigned to the SYD room for multiple days the SYD Coordinator contacts all the classroom teachers for the work that will be missed. Students in the SYD room understand this work needs to be completed during the day to prevent any further repercussions. The morning starts with another interview designed to have the students reflect on the choice or choices they made that led to the disciplinary issue and they could have avoided the situation in the future. When they have completed their work, they are given a self-reflective essay assignment based on a series of quotes as their culminating activity.
3. Students with serious disciplinary infractions are assigned to the SYD room for one day for the first infraction, two days for the second infraction and three days for the third infraction. When a student has been referred to the SYD room for more than three infractions or has violated the District Violence Policy are required to attend the Bergen County Suspension Alternative Program (SAP). The SAP program is in alternative to out extended out of school suspensions. The SAP Program provides "proactive interventions prior to out of school suspensions that will address student's emotional, behavioral, and academic functioning." Participation in the SAP program is defined as instructional rather than out of school suspension and attendance is phoned into the district each day. Upon leaving the SAP Program students are required to complete a Treatment Plan that details their experience in the SAP Program and identifies both short- and long-term goals for the student to work towards back in their home schools. Prior to re-admission to Garfield High School the student, their parents or guardians, the SYD Coordinator, Guidance and any other school personnel deemed necessary are required to attend an administrative meeting to discuss the SAP Treatment Plan in addition to any other interventions the High School plans to implement in order to keep the student moving in a positive direction. This meeting provides parents and students the opportunity to participate in an ongoing dialogue with the school to assist them with receiving whatever supports they feel necessary to succeed. It is only after all these options are exhausted without a change in behavior that an out of school suspension is implemented for non-violent offenses.

Section: Students Date Created: May 2006 Date Edited: November 2020

M

The Board of Education recognizes that even the temporary exclusion of a student from the educational program of this district is a severe sanction and one that cannot be imposed without due process.

Any student who is guilty of continued and willful disobedience, or of open defiance of the authority of any teacher or person having authority over him, or of the habitual use of profanity or of obscene language, or who shall cut, deface or otherwise injure any school property, shall be liable to punishment and to suspension or expulsion from school. Conduct which shall constitute good cause for suspension or expulsion of a student guilty of such conduct shall include, but not be limited to, the conduct as defined in N.J.S.A. 18A:37-2 and the school district's Student Discipline/Code of Conduct Policy and Regulation in accordance with the N.J.A.C. 6A:16-7.1 et seq.

For the purposes of this Policy, "suspension" means the temporary removal of a student from the regular instructional program.

For the purposes of this Policy, "short term suspension" means a suspension for one, but not more than ten consecutive school days and "long term suspension" means a suspension for more than ten consecutive school days.

In accordance with the provisions of N.J.S.A. 18A:37-4, a student may be suspended only by the Principal, who shall report any suspension to the Superintendent as soon as possible. The Superintendent shall report the suspension to the Board at its next regular meeting. The suspended student may be reinstated by the Principal or by the Superintendent prior to the second regular meeting of the Board following the suspension, unless the Board reinstates the student at the first regular meeting. No student suspended for reasons of assault upon a person in authority may be reinstated before the Board has held a hearing, within thirty calendar days of the suspension, to consider that student's expulsion from school. At its second regular meeting after the suspension and thereafter, the Board alone may reinstate the student or continue the suspension.

In accordance with the provisions of N.J.S.A. 18A:37-2a, a student in Kindergarten through grade two shall not receive an out-of-school suspension, except when the suspension is based on conduct that is of a violent or sexual nature that endangers others. Students in preschool shall not receive an out-of-school suspension except as provided pursuant to the “Zero Tolerance for Guns Act,” N.J.S.A. 18A:37-7 et seq.

The district shall implement an early detection and prevention program to identify students in preschool through grade two who are experiencing behavioral or disciplinary problems and provide behavioral supports for these students which may include, but not be limited to, remediation of problem behaviors, positive reinforcements, supportive interventions, and referral services. An early detection program may be incorporated into the intervention and referral services required to be established in each school pursuant to State Board of Education regulations.

In each instance of a short-term suspension, the student will be provided oral or written notice of the charges and an informal hearing conducted by the Principal or designee in accordance with the procedures outlined in N.J.A.C. 6A:16-7.2. To the extent the student’s presence poses a continuing danger to persons or property or an ongoing threat of disrupting the educational process, the student may be immediately removed from the student’s educational program and the informal hearing shall be held as soon as practical after the suspension.

In each instance of a long-term suspension, the district shall assure the rights of the student pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:16-7.3.

The district will comply with the requirements of N.J.A.C. 6A:16-7.2 and 7.3, in addition to all the procedural protections set forth in N.J.A.C. 6A:14, for each student with a disability who is subject to a short-term or long-term suspension.

In each instance of a short- or long-term suspension, the district shall provide academic instruction, either in school or out of school, that addresses the New Jersey Student Learning Standards pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:8-3.1 et seq., which may include a public education program provided in accordance with the provisions of N.J.A.C. 6A:16-9 or 10. These services shall be provided within five school days of the suspension. Educational services provided to a student with a disability shall be provided consistent with the student’s Individualized Education Program, in accordance with N.J.A.C. 6A:14.

In the event a student has experienced multiple suspensions or may be subject to a proposed expulsion from school, the Principal shall convene a meeting, as soon as practicable, between the student and a school psychologist, a school counselor, a school social worker, a student assistance coordinator, or a member of the school’s intervention and referral services team in accordance with the provisions of N.J.S.A. 18A:37-2c.

Student records are subject to challenge by parents and adult students in accordance with N.J.A.C. 6A:32-7.7 and Policy and Regulation 8330. Garfield School District Code of Conduct Virtual Instruction Addendum

As a result of the current conditions related to the Covid 19 Pandemic Crisis the Garfield School District will be making the following modifications to the current District Code of Conduct to address situations that are unique to the current educational environment. These modifications relate to student behavior in both the in-person and virtual setting. During virtual instruction students are expected to follow all expectations for in-person instruction since they can be seen and heard by all participants both literally and through the chat feature.

Code of Conduct Modifications – Behavior

A consistent Code of Conduct has never been more crucial to the day-to-day operation of an effective educational system. The Garfield School System's Code of Conduct creates a system of behavior modifications designed to create a positive educational experience free from disruption for all stakeholders of the Garfield School Environment. The Road Back Guide provided by the New Jersey Department of Education provides the following explanation of its overall goal, "The health and safety of students and staff must remain the number one priority and guide all decisions at the local level," (16).

In-Person/Virtual Instruction

The District's Code of Conduct utilizes the REALTIME Discipline tab to document all student violations using a pulldown menu. To create a consistent method of documenting Covid 19 related infractions the District will utilize the following six categories of disciplinary intervention with an appropriate description to document Code of Conduct infractions as they relate to Covid 19.

1. Dress Code – First Offense/Second Offense: Students wearing mask/face coverings with writing or insignias; Students removing mask/face coverings in public areas/classrooms where masks/face coverings are required; Students wearing inappropriate shirts, pants, shorts or shoes. During virtual instruction all students are expected dress in a manner that would be appropriate in a classroom. The virtual classroom is an extension of the school and will be treated as such.
2. Disruptive Behavior: First Offense/Second Offense: Students purposefully cause a disruption in the physical or virtual classroom; Students use chat feature of TEAMS to purposely disrupt instruction; Students post comments on other educational platforms to purposely disrupt instruction.
3. General Misconduct: Any action not directly defined above that jeopardizes the health and safety of students and staff. In addition, any actions deemed to jeopardize the educational process in a virtual setting will also be considered included in this description. Virtual infractions will include any action that jeopardizes the privacy of Garfield staff and students through the copying, altering, or redistributing any virtual material intended for educational purposes. Administration will judge severity of the offense in relation to the consequences.
4. Insubordination: Students refuse a direct request from any staff member regarding the health and safety of students and staff in both the in-person and virtual setting. Administration will judge severity of the offense in relation to the consequences.
5. Intent to Cause Physical Harm: Students purposefully remove mask/face coverings to breathe, cough or sneeze on another student or staff; Students refuse to social distance when necessary; Students refuse to wear masks/face coverings when moving about classrooms, halls and bathrooms. Students refusing to follow designated hallway traffic patterns. Immediate assignment to fully remote instruction until student satisfies the necessary steps to return.

6. Continued and Willful Disobedience: Any instance of repeated infractions to any of the above listed violations of the Code of Conduct in both in-person or virtual instruction. The result of multiple infractions that interfere with the educational process will result in students being placed on fully remote instruction until student satisfies the necessary steps to return.

The district recognizes the importance of finding alternative forms of behavior modification. The normal punitive methods utilized in most instances have been rendered ineffective with the new model of instruction. Considering the outside factors that may impact behavior related to Covid 19 including stress, anxiety, family related traumas and social issues, punitive punishments where applicable will be seen as a last result. Restorative Practices, both in person and virtual, can be implemented to find solutions to behavior issues. Time can be allotted during virtual Wednesday session to facilitate Restorative Practices to address student to student issues and student to staff issues as well. Time can also be allocated for meetings related to counseling, SEL and other interventions identified in the IR&S/RTI Plan.

Basic Etiquette for Online Video Learning

- All students are required to show up at the scheduled time
- Find a quiet place with the least distractions (siblings, pets, parents, television)
- Be respectful when speaking and writing
- Stay on mute until you would like to contribute, need to speak or ask a question
- Refrain from chewing gum, eating or drinking in front of the camera
- Video must be on to be considered present for attendance
- Maintain eye-contact
- Limit movement to avoid causing a distraction to others
- Do not share screenshots of TEAMS meetings where student or teacher images are displayed
- Chat should only be used to discuss or ask questions related to the lesson
- Do not copy, alter, or redistribute conferencing videos.

Code of Conduct - Attendance

The district will develop an equitable system of taking attendance recognizing the needs of families and students to effectively provide four hours of standards-based instruction per day. Utilizing synchronous and asynchronous instruction models with flexible methods of monitoring student participation will be necessary to provide all students equitable access to instruction recognizing their unique social and emotional needs during the Covid 19 crisis. A minimum 24 hour turn around period is recommended to assure all students can access four hours of standards-based instruction per day regardless of their personal situations.
